The NDIA has determined the price limits that must apply to the provision of therapy supports for participants of the NDIS. Price regulation is in place to help ensure participants receive value for money when they purchase the supports they need.

Kern's pricing considers the current NDIS Pricing Arrangements and Price Limits as well as the costs involved in providing a sustainable, quality therapy support service. Kern's prices may be adjusted to reflect any changes made by the NDIA and these changes will be communicated to participants.

For the purposes of GST legislation, most therapy supports Kern delivers are GST exempt and GST should never be added to a NDIA price.
